

Treat Your Bird To A Healthy Snack

Drs. Foster & Smith Educational Staff

Nutrient-enriched treats offer an easy - and delicious - solution for healthy skin, radiant plumage, and optimal overall health.

To help ensure that your bird receives the vitamins and minerals essential for overall health while combating the effects of stress and/or a nutrient-deficient diet, you should give daily supplements with food or water.

Or, you can choose from several nutrient-enriched treats containing high levels of vitamins, minerals, and fatty acids. These treats add more substance to your bird's diet, offer a change from common liquid- or powder-based supplements, and make entertaining, stimulating rewards for birds of all kinds.

A Low-fat fresh treats, such as the Pet Greens, offer delectable, nutrient-rich greens for nibbling.

Natural dried treats and nuts like Just Veggies/Just Fruit Treats add great taste and nutrition to the daily diet - whether served alone or with food.