10 Common Birds to Look For

Drs. Foster & Smith Educational Staff

10 common

backyard birds you may see

It's nice to know the names of the birds that visit your backyard. Below, we list 10 common backyard birds that are found in large areas of North America, along with the places they live and their favorite foods. Are any of these birds currently using your backyard feeders and birdbaths? If you would like to see more of these birds in your yard, follow the tip given for each species.

AMERICAN GOLDFINCH

EATS: Seeds, insects, and berries. LIVES: Open areas with some shrubs and trees: farms, suburban yards, and gardens.

TIPS: Will visit

feeders for thistle seed and sunflower seed.

AMERICAN ROBIN

EATS: Earthworms, but will also eat insects, fruit, and berries

LIVES: From suburban yards, to plains, to wooded areas.

LEARN MORE ▶

TIPS: May visit a fruit feeder. They love freshly watered gardens, where they are likely to find their favorite food, earthworms.

RED BREASTED NUTHATCH

EATS: Insects from tree trunks. Also eats seeds of conifer trees.

LIVES: Coniferous or mixed woods.

TIPS: Visits feeders

for sunflower seed and suet.

CEDAR WAXWING

EATS: Insects, fruits, and berries.

LIVES: Open rural or suburban areas.

TIPS: Visits chokecherry,

mulberry, and other fruit-bearing tress and shrubs.

RED-WINGED BLACKBIRD

EATS: Insects, weed

seeds.

LIVES: Marshy lands, meadows all over the U.S.

TIPS: Visits feeders for cracked corn and seed mixes.

MOURNING DOVE

EATS: Seeds of weed, grass, and grain, and also insects.

LIVES: Almost any open habitat. TIPS: Eats seeds

scattered on ground

from feeders and visits ground feeders, too.

SONG SPARROW

EATS: Seeds, insects, and fruit. LIVES: Shrubs found at the edge of open areas, such as meadows, lawns, or streams.

feeder with seed scattered on ground or a ground feeder.

LEARN MORE

BLACK-CAPPED CHICKADEE

EATS: Insects, seeds, and berries. LIVES: Suburbs, wooded areas, and farmland in the northern and middle states.

TIPS: Commonly visits feeders for sunflower seed. Watch them hold the seed in their feet and crack it open.

NORTHERN CARDINAL

EATS: Insects. fruits, berries, seeds, and spiders. LIVES: Woods, suburban areas. and shrubs near open areas.

TIPS: Visits feeders

for sunflower, safflower, and cracked

LEARN MORE >

corn.

EATS: Weed seeds, blossoms, fruits, and buds.

LIVES: Urban and suburban areas. open areas with some trees, canyons, semi-dry brush habitats.

TIPS: Visits hanging feeders for sunflower seed.

