

Aquarium Stands and Canopies

Drs. Foster & Smith Educational Staff

A well-maintained aquarium is like a piece of art. While it possesses intrinsic beauty, aquariums are highlighted best when properly displayed.

The new generation of aquarium stands and canopies are designed to offer hobbyists both aesthetic and practical benefits. Discover how aquarium stands and canopies add to the form and function of aquariums.

Beautiful and practical aquarium furniture

Just like a picture frame elevates artwork to make a statement, stylish aquarium furniture enhances the beauty of aquariums. As a testament to the time and effort put in by the hobbyist, aquariums deserve recognition and should be a pleasure to view. When placed in a prominent location and displayed upon aquarium furniture, aquariums become a true focal point and motivate hobbyists to take proper care.

In contrast, aquariums placed in awkward or out-of-the-way locations may not receive the care or attention they deserve. Poorly located aquariums are often neglected and instances of fish disease or equipment malfunction can remain unnoticed. By showcasing aquariums with aquarium furniture, hobbyists are able to provide proper care for their aquariums. Furthermore, friends and family are also able to enjoy the results. To ensure the best care, locate aquariums where they are accessible for regular and convenient maintenance.

Functional features

Though designed aesthetically to blend in with home interiors, aquarium furniture does not compromise functionality for the aquarist. Generous cabinet space and convenient access doors allow installation and concealment of bulky filtration devices and other aquarium equipment. Many models feature built-in shelves or drawers to provide additional storage and easy access to food, supplements, and other aquarium essentials. By keeping these items in one convenient location, aquarium stands offer a practical way to inventory frequently used supplies.
