

Rawhides: How to Choose

Drs. Foster & Smith Educational Staff

Rawhide is sure to be one of your pet's favorite treats. Naturally nutritious, high in protein, and low in fat - it is also good for his oral health. Chewing rawhide improves dental health by helping scrape away plaque, control tartar buildup, and maintain gum health. It is also an enjoyable activity that entertains your dog for hours and keeps his mind stimulated. Unfortunately, all rawhide is not created equal. Because "quality" rawhide offers your pet significant benefits, it is well worth seeking out.

Look for quality rawhide for your special pup

Drs. Foster & Smith goes to great lengths to ensure that our rawhide chews are the absolute best. Made from premium beef hide, produced in the U.S.A., our rawhide is created only by manufacturers we trust to adhere strictly to our approved manufacturing processes, and consistently live up to our high quality standards.

You can see the Drs. Foster & Smith Premium Rawhide difference

Our Premium Rawhide is better three ways:

- Natural drying - Our Premium Rawhide is air-dried naturally, not with chemicals.
- No bleaching - We do not bleach our rawhide. That's why they are cream colored, not white, your indicator that the natural flavor and nutrition are still there.
- Heavier and thicker - Our bones are heavier than the same-sized bones you can buy elsewhere. Because our bones are made from thicker hides and wrapped tighter, they last longer, provide the greatest chewing satisfaction, and are a better value.

Premium Selections

Whatever type of rawhide your dog prefers - traditional knotted bones, rings, sticks, or rolls - we offer a quality chew to satisfy his taste and your budget. Check out all of the Drs. Foster & Smith Premium Super Deluxe, Extra Thick, and Super Heavyweight rawhide selections:

Specialty Selections

In addition to Premium Natural chews, we also offer a large selection of other quality rawhide chews. These include flavored varieties, dental mint, and treats. Some of the most popular include:

- Dental SmartBones - Your dog will enjoy this treat while he cleans and freshens his breath
- Pressed Rawhide Bones - Nutritious, filled with flavor, and Made to stand up to the most aggressive chewers
- Treats - Shaped novelties, chew sticks, and more, designed to please any pup.

Chewing rawhide is safe, but it is always a good idea to supervise your pet. When your dog has chewed on a piece of rawhide to the point of it becoming soft, take the chew away and substitute another.

It really does pay to satisfy your pup's chewing instincts with a real, premium rawhide bone or chew. Whichever type of rawhide you offer your pet, he will find chewing it just plain.
