

Common Questions About Ferret Care

Drs. Foster & Smith Educational Staff

Ferrets have been domesticated for over 2,000 years, but it's only in the last 50 years or so that they have become beloved pets. They are rapidly becoming more and more popular, but it can still be difficult to find the information you need to properly care for them. In our Ferret FAQs, we have all the information you need gathered in one convenient place!

We will go over a number of questions pertaining to diet, behavior, health, grooming, and basic ferret care. If you are wondering what ferrets eat, why your ferret is doing the things he's doing, or anything else about your ferret's needs, these FAQs will be a very valuable tool for you!

Basic Ferret Care >

- Ferret Age
- Life Span
- Ferret Toys
- Ferretproofing
- Litter Type

Ferret Behavior / Training >

- Hissing
- Litterbox Training

Health / Healthcare >

- Adrenal Disease
- Diarrhea
- Hair Loss
- Hairballs

Diet / Nutrition >

- Appropriate Ferret Treats
- Cat Food (not recommended)
- Feeding Quality Ferret Food
- Ferret Food Senior Diet
- Switching Diet

Grooming >

- Bathing Your Ferret
- Blackheads on Ferret's Tail
- Brushing Your Ferret's Teeth
- Clipping Your Ferret's Nails

More Ferret Articles >

Ferret Supplies >